WHAT IS THE PERSONAL COUNSELING CENTER?

The Personal Counseling Center is a place where students can expect professional assistance with emotional, behavioral and psychosocial concerns. A counselor will listen, give feedback, encourage further questioning, validate self-awareness and responsibility, and support students as well as provide referrals to additional resources as needed.

WILL YOU TELL OTHERS WHAT I SAY?

Everything you say is confidential, we won't share information with anyone without your permission. No one can access your information except the counseling center staff. The only exceptions are situations where we are required by law or a life threatening situations exists.

MISSION OF DIVERSITY

The Personal Counseling Center supports the College's commitment to diversity as a Catholic and Dominican institution as "a key component of our collective pursuit of truth, promoting rigorous exploration of diverse ideas and theories, critical engagement with the world, cross-cultural understanding, innovation in problem-solving, and collaboration across differences within and beyond the classroom." It also supports the College's commitment to "cultivating policies, practices, and structures that assure an equitable and hospitable community for all students, staff, and faculty. "

College provides a pathway for students to expand their social and cultural experiences, and to build a more promising career and future. While college life provides a plethora of richness and diversity, it can be particularly arduous for firstgeneration college students (FGCS).

FGCS are students who have little or no family collegiate history, and as a result, may enter college with little knowledge about certain transitions or the used jargon. Many FGCS come from different ethnic and racial backgrounds and may not commonly receive a lot of familial support while attending college. FGCS face particular struggles that other non-FGCS may not face, regardless of their intellect or perseverance, including:

- lack of college readiness
- financial challenges
- lack of familial support
- low a academic self-esteem and self doubt
- racial/ethnic underrepresentation

Although FGCS face many obstacles during their college career, they also demonstrate great resiliency and perseverance, including:

- educational commitment
- academic engagment
- campus engagement
- flexibility and adaptability
